Berlin, November 26, 2020. Now guests can stay overnight still longer at particularly low prices in the eight Seminaris Hotels in Germany: From Bad Honnef and Bad Boll over Nuremberg, Leipzig, Lüneburg and Potsdam to Berlin the hotels offer a whole week long deep black offers! Who books overnight accommodation between November 27 and December 4, 2020 in the context of the SEMINARIS BLACK WEEK for the travel period from November 27, 2020 to June 30, 2021, can be pleased about 30 percent off. Breakfast and free WiFi are always included. And: The rooms can be cancelled flexibly and free of charge - until 6 p.m. on the day of arrival! All hotels are located directly in the countryside or very close to it and therefore offer many great opportunities for long winter walks, where you can enjoy plenty of light and fresh air.

The SEMINARIS BLACK MEETING WEEK from November 27, 2020 to December 4, 2020 offers a sensational 80 percent discount on room rental in combination with the booking of a conference offer for all events between December 1, 2020 and March 31, 2021. Plus: You can also choose between a free Welcome Coffee or a unique Brainfood Corner in the conference room. Whether annual planning for 2021, the kick-off for an entrepreneurial change process or coaching: Seminaris Hotels offer everything needed for professional meetings and workshops of the most modern standard. One focus is on New Work - the "new working world". Those who want to make their team fit for the future will find cleverly thought-out and optimally equipped rooms in the hotels, which are perfectly aligned to the agile methods of New Work when required. This makes business conferences look pleasantly different: With "walking meeting" in nature, a box full of building blocks or the ball pool for adults.

This is also highly inspiring for classic meetings and conferences: the creative surfaces and materials encourage all companies to develop and implement visions, to think their ideas further and to spark new ones. On request, Seminaris can act as a "Service System Provider" with an extensive network of experienced coaches, speakers, trainers or moderators. And if required, the hotel teams provide support in planning from the initial idea to the professional supervision of the events on site.
